Policy and Procedure # 642

Employee Scheduling and Attendance

Approval: /S/ Dani Cook

Effective Date: 7/13/2022

POLICY:

Regular attendance is essential to the company's efficient operation and is a necessary condition of employment. EFI must maintain adequate staffing levels to implement the clients' service plans' goals, ensuring essential health and safety needs are met.

PROCEDURE:

1. STAFFING SCHEDULES

- a. EFI has the responsibility to create staffing schedules that reflect client support needs.
 - i. Full-time employee schedules should consist of 32-40 hours per week.
 - ii. Employees will not work more than 16 hours per day.
 - iii. Employees will not exceed 64 hours worked within a week. (Unless there is an extreme staffing crisis)
- b. Because the needs of our clients change, employee schedules and work locations may vary and frequently change to match client needs and scheduling purposes.
 - i. Advance notice of schedule and location changes may not always be possible.
 - ii. Paycom informs employees of these changes and are urged to check their schedules daily.
- c. Working a temporary schedule does not signify changing an employee's official schedule.

2. STAFFING CRISIS AND MANDATORY SHIFTS

- a. While it is EFI's practice to fill staffing shortages through voluntary means, when critical staffing shortages occur, EFI employees may be required to work additional hours, including overtime, to assure our clients' health and safety. All changes are dependent upon our staffing numbers.
 - i. The following individuals have the authority to require an employee to work over and above their regular schedule: Supervisors, Directors, and the Executive Director.
 - ii. In cases of extreme staff shortages, e.g., an event of severe weather, natural disaster, or call-outs, employees may be required to work longer shifts or even work overnight shifts.
 - iii. Employees may be required to work longer shifts to cover tardiness or absences until relief arrives.
- b. During a disaster, EFI may face staffing shortages for various reasons—staff may not be able to get into work, may be ill, or may need to take care of their own families during the emergency. As an agency, we may have to act and make changes to ensure that every one of our clients can be supported. The following are some of the possible changes that we may have to make:

- i. Reconfigure living arrangements- This is intended to combine households if needed to have adequate staffing within the home.
- ii. Essentials only- All extracurricular activities will be postponed until we can provide staffing.
- iii. Sleeping shifts- In homes where the client's support is minimal at night, we may approve sleeping shifts so that staff working more than 8 hours can rest.
- iv. All hands-on deck- All staff trained and certified working in the office will be reassigned to work in the Supported Living homes.

3. CALLING IN LATE OR ABSENT

- a. An employee that anticipates being late or absent must notify their work location and must notify the scheduler during office hours on the AOC (Administer on Call) phone or the RSM (Residential Shift Manager) after hours until 11 pm and the Supervisor of the house between the hours of 11 pm-7 am.
 - i. The appropriate person (see above) must be notified 2 hours before the start of the scheduled shift when possible.
 - ii. Employees with an absence for a reason covered by the paid sick leave policy need to communicate that they are using sick time correctly. When adding the sick time to their timesheet via Paycom, they must use the correct code.
 - iii. The AOC, RSM, or supervisors will find coverage for the employee calling out to shift.
 - iv. Employees are required to contact their Supervisor each day absent unless alternate arrangements are made in advance with your Supervisor.

4. ATTENDANCE

- a. An absence due to a reason covered by the Paid Sick Leave policy may not be counted in considering disciplinary action due to excessive absenteeism if the employee has sufficient paid sick leave accrued to cover the time missed from work. The only time an employee can be given disciplinary action is if their call-offs become a pattern that is directly related to sick time accrual.
- b. An employee who is often (more than 2 in a month) absent or tardy, who frequently asks to leave work early, or who displays a pattern of attendance problems (e.g., often absent or late on Mondays and/or Fridays), or has a disproportionate pattern of "emergency" absence requests, may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.
- c. Failure to notify your Supervisor when you will be absent or tardy may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.
 - i. Absent for three consecutive shifts without notifying your Supervisor or scheduler will be considered job abandonment. It will result in the termination of employment, effective the last day worked.

Employee Scheduling and Attendance

- d. Employees absent for more than three days will be required to submit a doctor's note or equivalent medical statement before being paid sick leave.
 - i. Requests for documentation cannot cause an undue financial burden on employees.

5. OVERTIME APPROVAL

- a. All overtime hours require approval by a supervisor or Department Director.

6. REQUEST FOR TIME OFF

- a. Employees must request and schedule time off in advance with the scheduler.
 - i. Residential and Vocational Employees must give a minimum of two weeks' advance notice for scheduled time off.
 - ii. Administrative employees need to give 48-hour notice for scheduled time off or two weeks advance notice for time off consisting of 5 consecutive days or longer.
- b. Employees can trade or swap shifts as a temporary measure to satisfy client staffing hours and assure the health and safety of our clients. Shift swaps must be communicated to your Supervisor or scheduler.
 - i. The swap cannot create overtime for the employee taking the shift without prior authorization from the Supervisor. The swap can not result in low staffing due to the employee swap. All schedules must still be able to be completed.
- c. Directors and Supervisors may place reasonable limits on the number of simultaneous vacation/time off requests granted during a period based on the current staffing shortages and the clients' needs.
